Security forces raided the house of detainees Abbas and Husain Abdulla Saleh al-Karzakani from A’ali. They searched the house and arrested the detainees’ father. His current location is unknown.

The first son, Abbas, was sentenced to 18 years in prison because of his participation in the revolution. His brother, Husain, had been arrested a week earlier and was allowed no contact with his family, except for one call from the CID building.

Husain’s family expressed concern over his health, given that they did not know his whereabouts and have received no information from the CID.

Husain suffers from several illnesses. He has regular appointment at the hospital and his family is concerned that he will be unable to continue attending.
